WORK EXPERIENCE

Front-End Engineer / Acquire.com & Metricable

Nov 2021 – Feb 2026

Acquire.com is the largest marketplace for buying & selling online businesses (500K+ users, $500M+ closed deal volume). Metricable is SaaS analytics turning Stripe billing data into real-time metrics (MRR, ARR, churn, LTV, cohorts). Distributed team of ~13 across US and Ukraine.

Acquire.com - core frontend engineer (4 years)

- Redesigned the marketplace filtering engine used to browse thousands of vetted startup listings - simpler search and filtering code that's easier to maintain
- Rebuilt UI flows across most of the web app, including a deal-status system with 10+ interaction states across 3 user roles, which helped attract higher-value users
- Architected a cross-role chat system (factory pattern) serving 3 roles with distinct interaction rules
- Owned the frontend for escrow-based deal flows (status lifecycle, UI states) and billing-data pipelines feeding analytics
- Built transactional email flows on the Node.js layer (SendGrid) and integrated the OpenAI API on the backend for smart filters and metrics processing
- Shipped ~40 production releases end to end (estimation → dev → review → QA → release → hotfix), with Jest coverage on ViewModels

Metricable - sole frontend engineer, zero to launch

- Built the entire frontend from zero to public launch with Next.js - architecture, component system, and MobX state; became the sole frontend engineer after a reorg and owned 100% of it
- Evaluated and integrated Apache ECharts; shipped 12+ interactive visualization types, including 6 AI-powered predictive charts for revenue, churn, and cohort analytics
- Delivered role-based dashboards, dynamic filters, and multi-account switching
